

Draft Seminar Programme
The European Institutional Responses to the Challenges of Supervising Financial Markets

Friday, 5 December 2014, at HTW Berlin, University of Applied Sciences, Campus Treskowallee, VG 501, Treskowallee 8, 10318 Berlin, Germany

(Speakers' Dinner on Thursday, 4 December 2014, 7 p.m. - 10 p.m. - venue to be announced)

9.15-9.30

Welcome

Professor Matthias Knaut, Vice-President Research, HTW Berlin, Germany

Introduction

Professor Gudula Deipenbrock, HTW Berlin, Germany, and Professor Mads Andenas, University of Oslo, Norway

Part A. The Institutional Responses to the Challenges of Financial Markets - the ESFS

I. Selected Institutional Aspects of the ESAs - Critically Assessed with a View to the Entities' Capability to Respond to the Challenges in the Financial Markets - and the ESRB

9.30-9.50

The European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA) - Critical Remarks on Selected Institutional Aspects

Professor Gudula Deipenbrock, HTW Berlin, Germany

9.50-10.10

The European Supervisory Authorities and the National Supervisory Authorities in the Non-Euro Countries and in the EEA

Professor Mads Andenas, University of Oslo, Norway

10.10-10.30

The European Banking Union and the Enforcement Powers of the European Supervisory Authorities

Andromachi Georgosouli, Senior Lecturer, Queen Mary, University of London, UK

10.30-10.50

Power and Accountability in the EU Financial Regulatory Architecture: Examining the Potential for Inter-agency Checks and Balances

Iris Chiu, Reader, UCL, University of London, UK

10.50-11.10

The European System of Financial Supervision. Effective or Defective Institutional Reforms?

Georgina Tsagas, Postdoctoral Associate, UCL, University of London, UK

11.10-11.30 Discussion

11.30-11.50 Break

11.50-12.10

The European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB) - an Institutional Approach

Trude Myklebust, Research Fellow, University of Oslo, Norway

12.10-12.20

Comment: The European Supervisory Authorities - the Effects of the New Regime in Domestic Contract Law

Federico Della Negra, PhD Researcher, European University Institute Florence, Italy

II. Comparative Perspective: Institutional Approach of the Union Versus the Approach of Jurisdictions Outside the Union

12.20-12.40

Selected Aspects of International Regulation and Policy

Professor Kern Alexander, University of Zürich, Switzerland

12.40-12.50

Comment: The Relationship Between the European Supervisory Authorities and their ‘Counterparts’ in the United States: The Case of the ESMA-SEC Cooperation

Giuseppe Bianco, PhD Candidate, University of Oslo, Norway - Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne, France

12.50-13.00 Discussion

13.00-14.00 Lunch Break

III. Interdisciplinary Perspective: the Economic View

14.00- 14.20

Sustainable Impact Assessment of the European Supervisory Authorities

Professor Maria Jesus Munoz Torres, University Jaume I Castellon, Spain

Part B. The Institutional Responses to the Challenges of Financial Markets - the ECB

Chair of Panel: Professor Brigitte Haar, University of Frankfurt aM, Germany

I. Selected Institutional Aspects Critically Assessed with a View to the Entity’s Capability to Respond to the Challenges in the Financial Markets

14.20-14.40

The Old and the New ECB

Professor Kern Alexander, University of Zürich, Switzerland

14.40-15.00

The Management of Systemic Risk from a Legal Perspective

Professor Jan Dalhuisen, King's College, University of London, UK

15.00-15.20

The Single Supervisory Mechanism (SSM) - Selected Institutional Aspects and Liability Issues

Raffaele D'Ambrosio, Senior Lawyer, Legal Department, Bank of Italy, Italy

15.20-15.40

Discussion

15.40-16.00

Break

II. Interdisciplinary Perspective: the Economic View

16.00-16.20

Regulating SIFIs in the European Union - the Economic View

Professor Andreas Horsch, University of Freiberg, Germany

16.20-16.40

Alternatives to the European SIFI-Regulation - the Economic View

Jacob Kleinow, PhD Candidate, University of Freiberg, Germany

16.40-17.00

Discussion

17.00-17.15

Concluding Remarks

Professor Mads Andenas, University of Oslo, Norway, and Professor Gudula Deipenbrock, HTW Berlin, Germany.

The Seminar is organised by Professor Gudula Deipenbrock, HTW Berlin, Germany, and Professor Mads Andenas, University of Oslo, Norway. The organisers would like to express their special thanks to HTW Berlin for generously hosting the seminar and the Research Council of Norway for funding the related research project.

PARTICIPATION IS INVITATION ONLY

Please contact : e-mail: gudula.deipenbrock@htw-berlin.de / mads.andenas@jus.uio.no

For registration of invited participants, please contact: Ornulf Kristiansen, e-mail: ornulf.kristiansen@jus.uio.no

20 Jahre
Hochschule für Technik
und Wirtschaft Berlin

University of Applied Sciences