
Making it Stick

Compliance with Social Rights Judgments in Comparative Perspective

I. OVERVIEW

1. Introduction

Malcolm Langford, University of Oslo, César Rodríguez-Garavito, University of Los Andes and Julieta Rossi, University of Lanus

2. Lessons Learnt from Implementation of Civil and Political Rights Judgments

Basak Cali, University College London and Anne Koch, Researcher, ECHR Project

4. Enforcement or Impact? Theory and the Case of Colombia

César Rodríguez-Garavito, University of Los Andes

II. COUNTRY STUDIES

5. Argentina

Martín Sigal, ACIJ, Diego Morales, CELS and Julieta Rossi, University of Lanus

6. Brazil: Why Are Collective Suits Harder to Enforce?

Octavio Ferraz, Warwick School of Law

7. India: Compliance with Orders on the Right to Food - The Strength of Weak Remedies

Varun Gauri, World Bank

8. Canada: Systemic Social Rights Claims and a Partial Defence of Soft Remedies

Bruce Porter, Social Rights Advocacy Centre, Canada

9. United States

Cathy Albisa, NESRI, Amanda Shanor, Georgetown University and Damon Hewitt, NAACP Legal Defense

10. South Africa: Demand, Supply or Just a Matter of Time?

Malcolm Langford, University of Oslo and Steve Kahanovitz, Legal Resources Centre

11. Kenya: From Court-Centrism to Socio-Political Contestation

Odindo Opiata, Hakijamii and Malcolm Langford, University of Oslo

12. Palestine and Israel: Enforcement Under Fire

Sawsan Zaher, Advocate, Adalah, Israel

III. INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

13. Inter-American System of Human Rights

Victor Abramovich, former Member, IACHR and Professor, University of Lanus

14. Compliance and Enforcement under the African Human Rights System

Frans Viljoen, Centre for Human Rights, University of Pretoria

15. UN and Europe: The Case of the Roma

Andi Dobrushki, Director, Soros Foundation and Theodoros Alexandridis, Greek Helsinki Monitor

16. Reproductive Rights Litigation

Luisa Cabal, and Suzannah Phillips, Center for Reproductive Rights

IV. CONCLUSIONS

17. Solving the Problem of (non)Compliance in Economic and Social Rights Litigation

Daniel Brinks, University of Notre Dame