

Making it Stick

Compliance with Social Rights Judgments in Comparative Perspective

I. Overview

1. Introduction

Malcolm Langford, University of Oslo, César Rodríguez-Garavito, University of Los Andes and Julieta Rossi, University of Lanus and formerly ESCR-Net

2. Lessons Learnt from Implementation of Civil and Political Rights Judgments

Basak Cali, University College London and Anne Koch, Researcher, ECHR Project

3. Enforcement or Impact? Dialogic Jurisprudence and the Effects of Rulings

César Rodríguez-Garavito, University of Los Andes

II. Case Studies

4. Costa Rica: Understanding Variations in Compliance

Bruce Wilson, University of Central Florida & Olman Rodríguez, Constitutional Court of Costa Rica

5. Argentina: Does Size Matter?

Martín Sigal, ACIJ, Diego Morales, CELS and Julieta Rossi, University of Lanus and fmr ESCR-Net

6. Brazil: Are Collective Suits Harder to Enforce?

Octavio Luiz Motta Ferraz, University of Warwick

7. Canada: Systemic Social Rights Claims and a Partial Defence of Soft Remedies

Bruce Porter, Social Rights Advocacy Centre, Canada

8. United States: Legal Mobilisation and the Parameters of the Possible

Cathy Albisa, NESRI and Amanda Shanor, Georgetown University

9. India: Compliance with Orders on the Right to Food - The Strength of Weak Remedies

Varun Gauri, World Bank

10. South Africa: Rethinking Enforcement Mythologies

Malcolm Langford, University of Oslo and Steve Kahanovitz, Legal Resources Centre

11. The African Human Rights System

Frans Viljoen, Centre for Human Rights, University of Pretoria

12. International Housing Rights Litigation: The Case of the Roma

Andi Dobrushin, Director, Soros Foundation and Theodoros Alexandridis, Greek Helsinki Monitor

13. Transnational Reproductive Rights Litigation

Luisa Cabal, and Suzannah Phillips, Center for Reproductive Rights

III. Conclusions

14. Solving the Problem of (non)Compliance in Socio-Economic Rights Litigation

Daniel Brinks, University of Texas